

Montaigne said,

"The great and glorious masterpiece of men is to live to the point"

I Harsh Malu studying in class X in Sanjay Ghodawat International School truly believe in these words. I feel I am very fortunate and lucky to study in such a wonderful school whatever I am today is all because of my school. My school has given me a new identity and given me a chance to prove myself. I have many achievements up my sleeve. To name a few are being selected for a student exchange program held in Japan in 2012, representing countries like Libya and New Zealand at the Harvard Model United Nations Conference for the year 2012 as well as 2013. Being crowned as the Prince of Shahu Carnival 2013-14, representing Pune City at the Horlicks Wizkids South Asia Finals 2013-14, running inter-school and state debating and elocution competitions are some moments I will never like to forget. For this I am grateful to our Principal ma'am, teachers, my parents and my friends who supported me, trusted me and believed in me.

After coming here, my life has changed totally. Every day with the arrival of new sunrises, I face a new challenge giving me an opportunity to discover the hidden talent in me. I had never imagined that speaking would become my strength and I will be a public speaker one day. I speak with a lot of people and express my ideas with everyone. I am confident while I deliver each and every time I feel it. This has simply not happened. It was my principal who identified the hidden potential in me and helped me out to carve my abilities, strengths and improve my weak points.

Winning is not always important. But when you participate, it makes a big difference. I have participated in many competitions representing my school where I always give my best. After every competition, I come to know the points, I need to improve and I try my level best to convert them into my strength.

I feel that being a part of SGIfamily I have always gained knowledge and gained happiness. I can proudly say, "SGI is my launch Pad."

Finally I would like to highlight, it is said, "School is preparation for life.

But SGI is a school called life....."

Master. Harsh Malu

(Xth STD)